

name something about yourself that you're really proud of.

share a time when you stood up for someone. or helped someone who needed your help. how did it make you feel?

